Revolutionary Soldier

Henry County

Monument in Forest Home Cemetery

Charles Shepherd

b. D 25, 1763 d. S 1845

Served 4 years and $5\frac{1}{2}$ months

Was in Battles of Brandywine and Germantown

Buried in the N. E. $\frac{1}{4}$, S. E. $\frac{1}{4}$, Sec. 17, Township 72, Range 17 N

On other side of Monument:

Erected by the State of Iowa, aided by McFarland Post G. A. R.
and the D. A. R., Sept. 17, 1903

Mr. Heaton of Fairfield, Ia., a historian of some note, published in the Mt. Pleasant, Ia. News of Sept. 18, 1903:

Charles Shepherd came to Iowa in 1837 with his wife and 3 sons.

He served in the War of Independence as Private in Pa. troops under Capt. Patrick Duffie and Col. Thomas Proctor. For the three years of his actual service he received in 1818 a pension of $8.00 a month. At the time of application for pension he was 58 years of age.

He resigned at Duaneburg, N. Y.

Two of his sons were married and had families when they came from Brooklyn, N. Y. to Iowa. Henry, the eldest, Joseph, the youngest, lived with their parents in a little cabin two miles west of the present village of Rome.

In 1842 Shepherd moved to the east side of Skunk River, a mile north of Crawford's mill. With his last installment of pension money he wished to enter the 40 acres on which his cabin stood. He sent his sons to Fairfield to make the entry for him. James told Joseph to stay by the oxen, while he went in to the land office and made the entry. He entered it in his own name.

In September 1845 Charles Shepherd died and was buried on the hill just north of his cabin in which he had lived, overlooking Skunk River, by George Crawford, Isaac Grant, and the other young men.

Revolutionary Soldier

Henry County

Mr. Heaton's knowledge of Shepherd was derived partly from men who knew him and from the Pension Office.

James Shepherd was the first prisoner to occupy a jail in Jefferson County. His offence was that of beating his first wife (a half witted creature) and neglecting to support his family, that was starving. It was never brt to trial.

Charles Shepherd had been at Trenton and that battle and Washington's considerate care of his men in that camp were often the subjects of his conversation.
